Intended use

The medical device "TMAG" consists of permanent magnets intended for external and localized application on specific areas of the body affected by pain or dysfunction of the joints, muscles, or tendons.

The purpose of the device is to reduce the perception of pain and support functional recovery in the treated areas by emitting a continuous, low-intensity static magnetic field.

As the manufacturer of the device, we hereby declare that the aforementioned product complies with the provisions of the following regulation:

Regulation (EU) 2017/745 on medical devices.
